

Global Training/Technic Use and Script Structure

How to use the script?:

Each script is in the Vault as well as in Google Drive. Each script is listed in order in the Vault.

You have to follow the exact order of the scenes.

You must send the photos and videos in order.

Each content is numbered in Google Drive and Vault. You must follow the order. # are indicated to help you follow the order of the contents.

Each content written in blue is content to send.

The price is indicated in red.

The content description is indicated in green for vocals and in special blue for texts.

The description in Green is a vocal. Which means you have to use the voice associated with the content in the Script. Each content of the vocal (what is said in the vocal) is found in the named sheet “PPV Description Script (Script Number). It is very important that you read what is said in the voice, so that you can correctly respond to the fan's message if they ever ask a question or show a reaction.

The description in Special Blue means that you must write a text with the content sent.

Each content sent must have an associated description.

For some content, you have to think about the description by adapting to the discussion with the fan. For others, there are mandatory descriptions which are vocals.

Each content is sent with a price. You have to respect the idea of the price. You can sell a little less or a little more depending on the discussion. You have to adapt...

For the Starting Scene and the Teasing Scene/For the Photos

You can decide to send the photos one by one, depending on the discussion, or send photo packs.
